DEVELOPMENT MODEL

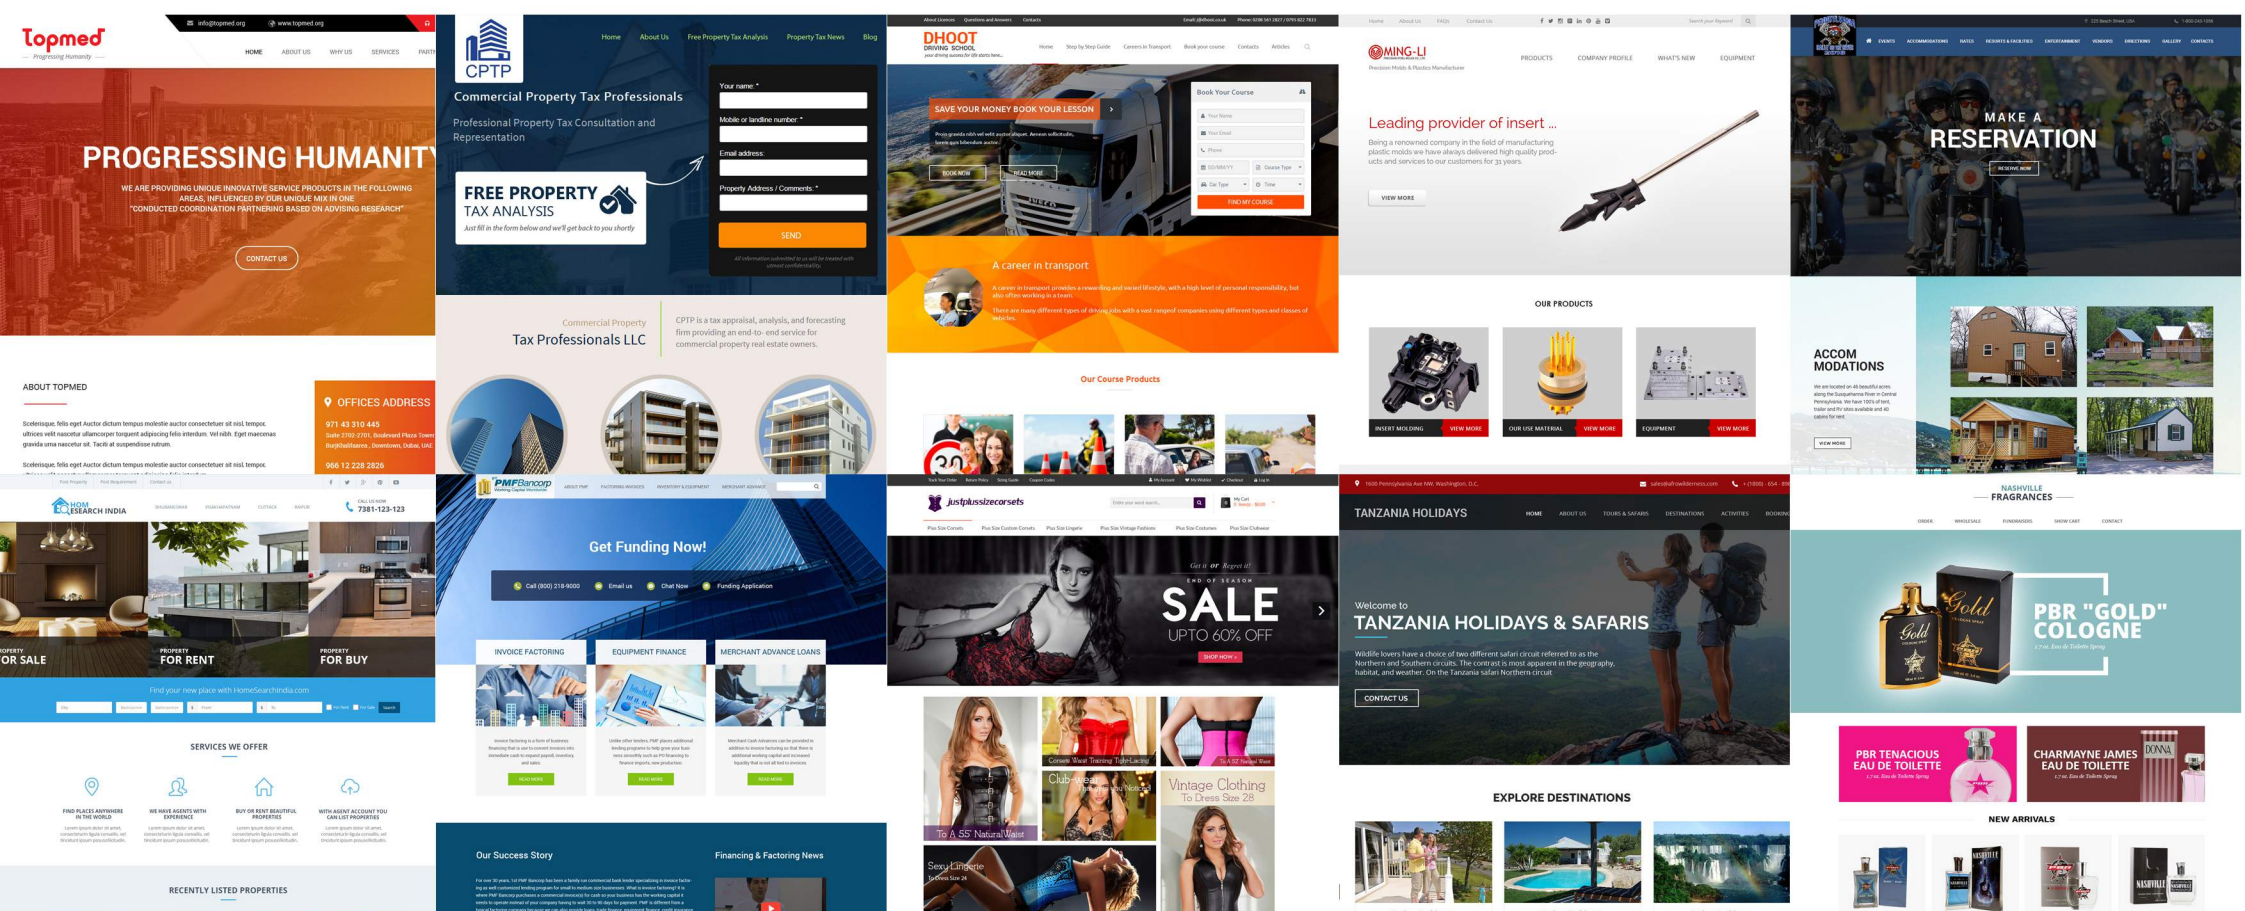

With information and a basic site map in hand, we can start to design your website. We define the look, feel and style of your website. This way you can choose a prototype and suggest in which direction you would like to go. Once a design has been approved upon, we begin the coding and development of all other applications for the site depending on the type of site you have chosen.

We will test the website in different browsers and make sure it displays correctly in all. We will be probing the functionality, optimization and code validation. This phase involves the delivery of the finished website.
